“The true measure of education is not what we learn,
but the values, confidence and character with which we carry it forward.”

Dear Readers,
Greetings !

The pages of this edition of Ishar Times capture the vibrant spirit of SISJMPS, Karamsar Rara Sahib, where every experience becomes an opportunity to learn, grow and excel. The edition brings together moments of sporting achievement, patriotic spirit, spiritual reflection, creative expression and active participation in various school activities and competitions. The solemn Barsi Samagam of Sant Ishar Singh Ji Maharaj and Sant Baljinder Singh Ji reminds us of the enduring legacy of faith, service and devotion, while the celebration of Independence Day reflects our love and respect for the nation. Diverse student engagements further nurtured discipline, confidence and teamwork, while seminars and professional development sessions for teachers enriched the teaching-learning process. Together, these glimpses reflect the culture of our school rooted in values, learning, discipline and continuous growth that inspires our students and educators to move forward with purpose and excellence.

Happy Reading !
